Box 4 - Official Locations and City Infrastructure

Safety Headquarters	F.U. Telecom
Retail Ice Sales *	City Greeters
Flipside Civic Center	Public Shithouses
Emergency Callbox	DMV Offices

* Ice can be purchased in bags of large or small cube(s). Bags are $2.00 each. All sales are final. Proceeds from the sale of ice underwrite official city business and infrastructure. Any unauthorized sales, vending, or busking of any kind, regardless of the good's phase of matter, will be shamed profusely both inside city limits and across digital boundaries.

I. The City of Pyropolis assumes no responsibility for any and all damage to person or property as a result of flooding, fallen trees, poison ivy, lack of shade, fire ant colony, or shitty neighbors. You assume full personal responsibility upon entering the city. All Pyropolis citizens must sign a waiver to be granted entry. Failure to sign a waiver will result in being figuratively branded as a Douchebag. II. Your satisfaction is strictly your fucking problem, and is not a priority of the IPS Department of Planning, or its agents. Theme Camp placement complaints made to IPS agents will be met with mild to moderate disapproval. Please submit Theme Camp placement change requests to your local Zone District representative via FSPS; all requests must be post marked by May First to be considered. For emergency requests, please locate your nearest Public Shithouse; once inside, lift seat and scream all grievances into waste receptacle. The IPS Department of Planning appreciates your cooperation and compliance in these matters. III. By entering the city of Pyropolis you agree to adhere to the strict guidelines and principles set forth by/for all participants, visa vi, everyone. Chiefly all citizens of Pyropolis agree to the core principle of "Don't be a dick." Being a dick includes, but is not exclusive to, all varieties of intercourse without full consent of all parties, physical violence without full consent of all parties, use of or consumption of personal property without full consent of all parties, photography of any kind without full consent of all parties, literally anything without full consent of all parties. Failure to comply with city ordinance will result in citizens finding themselves in deep shit. Your voluntary obedience to the IPS Department of Principle Adherence is mandatory. IV. All Citizens must consume at least 8 gallons of sanitized water every 12 hours. Those who plan to consume less than 8 gallons of sanitized water in a 12 hour period (subsequently referred to as "Dry-Bois") will not be officially greeted at the Pyropolis Greeter's Welcome Station. City Greeting Agents are under no obligation to hug, butt-wash, or urinate Dry-Bois home. Furthermore, citizens of Pyropolis may be randomly subjected to urine analysis, upon entering any of the Public Shithouses, without any prior warning. Urine analysis is evaluated by a pass/fail metric. Pissing clear will achieve a pass, any dis-coloration or odor will be met with failure and shame. V. All vehicles operated within city limits must be outfitted with proper light dampening equipment (subsequently referred to as "gels"). Any operator of an un-gelled, or poorly-gelled vehicle will be squinted at with extreme attitude. Blinded citizens reserve the right to shake their fist, make rude gestures, or utilize spoken expletives in response to bright-ass lights shining in their mother-fucking eyes. VI. Wearing clothing is optional within city limits at all times. The practice of covering one's upper torso to the exclusion of the lower extremities is a protected right as outlined in the original Pyropolis city charter. Individuals who choose to travel the city with their genitals uncovered assume all risk of poison-ivy on their asshole, labia, penis, testicles, taint, and/or grundle. The IPS Department of Health and Genital Safety has issued the following advisory: "You should totally bring a piece of fabric or something to put down on other people's chairs so you don't leave a sweaty ass-print on someone else's stuff; it's fucking gross...also there's poison ivy everywhere, duh."

VII. Use of the Public Shithouses is not a protected right and can be revoked at anytime. Serious Shithouse offenses include, but are not limited to: putting anything other than single-ly toilet paper, piss, shit, vomit, blood, mucus, or farts into the waste receptacle; spraying/smearing the seat without thoroughly cleaning up; assuming that butt-wipes, tampons, or beer cans are an exception and don't need to be packed out with the rest of your MOOP; failure to appreciate/thank Public Shithouse Staff who vacuum out all the feces twice a day. Citizens who do not comply with Public Shithouse rules will have to hold it or pretend to be watching an interesting bird while standing oddly still, waist-deep in the river, then act like they were somehow chilly, in spite of all the sweat, and that's why they did that weird little body shake. VIII. No pets allowed within city limits, this includes Emotional Support Animals. Emotional Support Animals are not a recognized or protected class of citizen within Pyropolis city limits. However, the IPS Department of Foreign Concepts does recognize the validity and extra-national sovereignty of properly certified Service Animals. Properly certified Service Animals enjoy diplomatic immunity within city limits. Petting, giving treats to, or making baby noises at a registered Service Animal will result in the immediate and awkward reprimand of any citizen who is not at least an eight out of ten. Please Note: PETS are allowed within city limits and can be found in and around Pyropolis Safety Headquarters. IX. The City of Pyropolis is set for planned demolition in its entirety once the IPS Department of Fucks has completely run out, at which time a state of GTFO is declared. Once GTFO is in effect all citizens must evacuate the city immediately and without any trace. Pyropolis refugees are expected to remove all evidence of any life changing experiences within five hours of the start of GTFO. Traces includes melting ice, bent blades of grass, an abundance of flies, and a lingering aroma of patchouli hanging in the air. Any refugee malingering at the time Pyropolis is officially disbanded will be subject to Default World rules and laws; good fucking luck with that.
